Our fish farm is located at Sungai Pulai. Sungai Pulai is a natural, sustainable site. It is the largest mangrove area in Johor and second largest in Peninsular Malaysia, the Sungai Pulai Forest Reserve covers 9,126ha and was the first mangrove forest to be gazetted by Johor in 1923. It was listed as a Ramsar Site on Jan 2003 together with Tanjung Piai and Pulau Kukup.

Mangrove forests are breeding sites for marine creatures like fishes, crabs, prawns and shellfish. It provides a sanctuary for these creatures to hatch and grow before returning to the open sea. Our fish breed in a halal environment and we can produce the best quality of marine fish in such good quality water and natural environment.
